

Execulink Telecom Announces Blazing-Fast 1 Gbps Internet Speeds in Wholesale Areas

(Woodstock, ON) May 6, 2020 – Execulink Telecom, the proudly local telecom provider headquartered in Woodstock Ontario, has announced it has expanded its 1 Gbps Internet to wholesale service areas.

Previously available only over its Fibre network, Execulink is now including many of its wholesale cable Internet areas in the 1 Gbps offering and is among the first telecom providers to do so. The blazing-fast residential Internet service allows video conferencing, online learning, gaming, and movie and music streaming to happen simultaneously with ease, meaning the whole family can work, learn, and play from home without interruption.

“Connection is the universal theme right now,” shares Ian Stevens, President and CEO of Execulink Telecom. “Our communities depend on fast, reliable Internet to stay connected to friends and family, work and learn from home, and stay entertained. Providing our customers with the connectivity they need has always been our goal and is something we’re focusing on now more than ever.”

With 1 Gbps speeds, everyone can stay connected on multiple devices and download up to 25 songs in one second, stream a TV show in five seconds and an entire HD movie in 25 seconds, and stream both music and video with no buffering. In a world where the whole family is home, 1 Gbps is a game changer.

Andrea Atkinson, Vice President Customer Experience at Execulink Telecom, states “We are ecstatic to be offering innovative solutions to our customers’ needs. We’re always looking for ways to improve the customer experience and are doing everything we can to ensure that our customers have the awesome experience they deserve while staying safe.”
